

ANIC is associated with EWF European Wax Federation

European Wax Federation

EWF represents the European wax producers, refiners and blenders as well as associated members from outside Europe.

EWF key objectives:

- bring together the European companies manufacturing or blending wax and having their own organization for the marketing of these products in Europe
- provide a forum for debating questions, problems, facts and topics arising during the manufacture, storage, transport use and disposal of waxes, particularly the developments of regulatory affairs in the EU (Technical, Statistics, Customs) as well as any other subject relating to the interests of the group
- ensure that the views of EWF are made known to other technical groups and organizations, official bodies, and national and international authorities, especially those involved in framing regulations.